

Table of Contents

Abstract.	i
Abstract in Chinese.iii
Acknowledge.iv
Introduction.	1
Chapter One. Author's life and historical background
I. German brief history in the early 20th century.	4
II. Brecht's biographical background.	6
III. Brecht's relationship with ladies.	10
Chapter Two. Brecht's epic devices
I. Historification.	13
II. Epic.	14
III. Alienation.	14
IV. The application of epic devices.	18
1. In The Mother	18
2. In Mother Courage and Her Children	24
3. In The Caucasian Chalk Circle	28
Chapter Three. The comparison among these three indomitable mothers
I. The situation of being single mothers.	37
II. Interactions with their children.	41
III. Maternal love reveals in different situations.	48
Chapter Four. Marxism, Feminism, and other wartime outlooks
I. Marxist approaches.	57
II. Feminist approaches.	68
III. The morality and outlooks in the war time.	73

Conclusion80
Works Cited..... 83
Bibliography.....86

